

Nine Local Boxers Fight in Championship Eliminations

Ponoka Theatre Crowded for 60 Rounds Of Boxing; Lacombe Boys Fare Well As Four Earn Crack at Provincial Finals

Webb Frizell, one of the group of local boys who entered in the Provincial Amateur Boxing Championship eliminations held in Ponoka last night (Wednesday) was the only fighter to score a knockout during the evening. Nine boxers from Lacombe made the trip, and Gordon, Lytle and Webb made it a night for the Frizells by each winning his event. Young Sonny Frizell, fighting in the 116-pound junior class, lost a close decision to Chester Irish, also of Lacombe. About 300 people jammed the theatre to see 60 rounds of boxing, some good, some bad, and some just indifferent. Close to 75 Lacombe residents attended the fights. Winners of their respective classes in these eliminations will fight in the Provincial Amateur Boxing Championship bouts to be held in Gardenton on April 29.

Mill Rate in M.D. Of Crown Set at 10.5 for 1938

Mills in Rate of Taxation Increase of One and One-Half Expected to Net $5,600

One and one-half mills was set as the rate of taxation in the Municipal District of Crown at the regular monthly meeting of the council, held in the municipal office Thursday night. This mill rate shows an increase of one and one-half mills over the nine mills charged in 1937 and 1938, and is expected to net the municipality an additional $5,600. Revenue derived from this taxation is for municipal purposes only, and does not include the Social Service Tax of three mills nor the S-H school tax, which is set by the individual school boards.

Two delegations appeared before the council in the afternoon. One asked for a graded and gravelled road from Morningdale south to Chigwell, while the other, consisting of over 30 ratepayers of Division 4 of the Municipal District, asked for certain elevated and gravelled roads in that community. No definite immediate action was taken by the council regarding either of these two matters.

Sao English was re-appointed as chief inspector of the municipal police. His duties to remain the same as those of last year. Councilors Albert Hall and George Hurd were appointed a committee of two to look into and investigate the gravel pit on J. Peck's farm. A motion was passed leasing the land known as the McQuillan estate to W. F. Puffer for the year 1938, on similar terms as those of previous years.

Seed applications came in for a great deal of discussion at the meeting before final acceptance of 10 seed grain applicants was given. At the same time, by-law empowering the council to borrow from the bank $5,000 for seed grain purposes, was passed.

Party to be Held For Baby Band

W. M. S. members will be hostesses to Mothers and Babies of the Baby Band at a party to be arranged by Mrs. G. Wallace, the superintendent, according to the plans made at the regular meeting of the W.M.S. at the home of Mrs. George Ramsay on Tuesday, April 19.

It is expected the party will be held on Thursday, April 28, at 3 p.m., and that Miss E. Mitchell, Travelling Secretary for the Division Board, will be the speaker. Arrangements are also being made to have Miss Mitchell meet with the C.A.T.P. groups on the same evening, with the Young Women's Auxiliary on Friday evening, and the Mission Band on Friday afternoon.

U.F.A. CO-OP. DECLARES DIVIDEND OF 3 PER CENT

A three per cent dividend was declared payable by the directors of the U.F.A. Co-operative to those who have completed with the qualifications laid down by the directors. Payment of these dividends was made last week, approximately $750 being distributed.

Unusual Event in Equine Kingdom

These twin colts, foaled from mare shown, near Leesburg, Va., represent the unusual in the equine kingdom. Not only is the birth of twins unusual among horses, about one in 10,000, but as a rule one of the twins is much smaller and weaker than the other and generally dies within a few days of foaling. In this case, however, both are sturdy thoroughbreds who (believe it or not) will soon be built along racing lines.

Show Your Loyalty

THERE should be a ready response to the membership drive now being put on by the Lacombe and District Board of Trade. Such an organization in any community is essential, and it behooves the business and professional men, as well as the farmers in the district, to get behind it. The success of any such organization is dependent on the enthusiasm which members show towards it. That there is room and work for such an organization in this community, none will deny. We have a town and district second to none in this Province, and many times in the course of each year the Board of Trade functions in the best interests of the community. The short course agricultural school in the Alberta Sales Pavilion last January, which proved such a success, was one of its major activities during the past year.

It cannot be made the success it should be without the fullest co-operation, which has been somewhat lacking in recent years, and the work left to a faithful few. Let's show the world that we can get together, both rural and urban, and make this organization a big factor in the general welfare of our town and district.

A concerted drive for members is being undertaken by teams which have certain towns to cover, so show your loyalty to the community in which you derive your living by cheerfully joining up.

This Is Not the Time

IT is difficult to understand what logic lies behind the suggestion of Premier Pattullo of British Columbia that immigration from Great Britain be revived, in which suggestion he is being backed by the Boards of Trade of three of British Columbia's smaller cities—Nanaimo, Kamloops and Nelson. As most of us will admit, there is agricultural and unemployment conditions are directly connected with the immigration question, let us review some of the conditions now existing between Winnipeg and the Pacific Coast.

The larger cities of Western Canada, such as Regina, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver, have thousands on their relief rolls. Of those now on relief in cities and towns throughout this country, it is a known fact that many are immigrants who were brought to Canada under various schemes, but who, after a year or two on farms, drifted to the cities and towns to become almost permanent relief cases.

It may be said in favor of those who came to Canada under the last few immigration schemes that many were not adapted to farming in the first place, and that the prices they obtained for farm products were too low to ensure success. If so, have we any guarantee that those brought over under any proposed new scheme would be any more suited to farming than the last group, or that the prices which they would obtain for what they produced on the farm would be any higher? It is more than likely that the result of any such movement of immigrants to this country would be a repetition of what happened before—and the relief rolls of the West would climb higher than ever.

It is noticeable that the mayors of the larger cities are not climbing on the "more immigration" bandwagon, for they have seen their relief rolls mount steadily as farmers from crop-failure and drought areas flooded to the cities.

It has been well said that there is a time for everything, and to sponsor an immigration program at this time would be neither fair to intending immigrants or to Western Canada as a whole.

A Necessary Increase

THE increase in taxation in the Municipal District of Crown from 9 mills to 10½ mills is unfortunate, but at the same time unavoidable. A new assessment roll will, of necessity, have to be prepared this year, and it is estimated that this one item alone will cost the municipality close to $5,000. Councillors look into consideration the clauses of the Minimum Wage Act and the Maximum Hours of Labor Act, and concluded that these two acts will effect the budget of the municipal district unfavorably by making an increase in wages for road work hands necessary.

It follows that an increase is seen in the allocation towards public works, which allocation cannot be cut because of the demands of taxpayers that roads be gravelled and improved. The municipality's contribution towards the Lacombe and District Community Hospital, too, will take a slice of the extra revenue derived from the increased taxation.

Taking these three main factors into consideration, councillors found themselves faced with only one course of action—that of increasing the taxation to meet these mounting expenditures. The additional levy will raise an extra $5,000, all of which will, it is expected, be eaten up to meet the additional demands on the treasury.

We ought not to look back unless it is to derive useful lessons from past errors and for the purpose of profiting by dear-bought experience.—George Washington.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

Writing this, as I am, on Easter Day, need least to say, Easter, and all it represents, is uppermost in my mind. Easter, to farmer folk, is more the beginning of their year than is January 1st. In January, the land is sleeping, the farmer trying to rest, nothing is active, all is waiting the coming of Spring. Then, with Easter and Spring, everything pulsates with renewed life and energy, eager to be once more up and doing. "We farmers put behind us the disappointments of the last year and plan for the future with the most glorious optimism. What matters it to us that last year we were hauled out, or our grain was frozen, or the drought spoiled our year's work—this is the beginning of a new year, and on 'next year' hopes we live and have our being.

Easter brings the Spring, the earth wakes up, the trees begin to clothe themselves in their mantles of green. The birds are coming back, and getting busy with their housing problem. Last week I saw a bluebird, sharply silhouetted against a background composed of a still-remaining drift of snow, and it looked such a gallant little thing he had travelled all those thousands of miles here, ready to take up the Spring song of life.

Easter brings us the promise of rebirth, and in this lies our salvation, for how could we go on striving after repeated set-backs if we did not believe that, sometime, eventually, we would get our reward? A great writer, Voltaire, said that if there were not a God, man would have to create one. Likewise, if there was not an ultimate goal on which to pin our hopes, life would lose much of its meaning.

The desire to make something grow lies latent in every breast. In the slums of any great city you can see pathetic evidence of this. Some plants salvaged from the garbage dump, and tended no less faithfully than if it were the rarest of orchids. This is only indicative of the desire of all humans to hand on the torch of life.

Easter brings the beginning of the farmer's busy year—the young chicks, the lambs, the little pigs, and tender shoots, all have to have unceasing and loving care to make them grow and thrive. For what? One might well ask oneself the question. Prices have been sometimes so low that they have not covered the cost of production. So why does the farmer go on producing, what advantage does the world does not need? He dare not allow the land to lie fallow, or his stock (capital) would perish, also he knows that the world really needs what he can produce. With all the abundance around us we know that millions in this world are starving, or are not receiving enough of the necessities of life. It is this extraordinary position that has made people rush to any replied "cure-all" in the hope of finding a solution. Even the least introspective cannot but see that there is something wrong with the present set-up. I wonder, though, if we quit chasing rainbows, and did a little individual hard-thinking, and tried to find some panacea ourselves, if we would not be better off than in rallying round the most plausible, or shilliest, talker, obscuring our horizon. If we would only agree to let our lives become a little less complicated and base our everyday actions on the simple things, we might be getting nearer the great purpose of the universe. It is this mob instinct that is leading up to what I fear may be a dreadful climax.

Surely, here in Canada, we should be able to plan something better, and more lasting, than the warnings nations of Europe. We have, with a few exceptions, everything within our Dominion with which to give all our citizens a full and abundant life. Why can't we do it?—It's what is holding us back? We have vast acreages of land, capable of producing all, and more than we want. We have gold and nickel, we have untold wealth. Why can't we get busy and put this wealth to work for the people, to whom it rightly belongs? We can't because of this lease, or that undertaking, given by some previous government. The land, which God gave to man, is so tied up by yards of red tape that man cannot use it to the ultimate good of the majority. Perhaps it is here where Canada's problem mainly lies today. Land, handed over in perpetuity, to various corporations and railway systems; railway systems for which we have to find millions every year—aren't we foolish? We strive, and work, and sink our savings in a few acres, for fear someone else will get them, which, after all, frequently happens. We can't take this little homestead with us when we pass on; in fact, when we die, it is necessary to purchase a further six foot of land in which to rest our weary bodies.

Dear Naomi—Girl, oh Girl, and I have good news for you: Had a letter from Dad today. He says that the girl who works in the post office out at Canaan Valley is going home to be married and he thinks that maybe I can get the job. Gosh! What I'm not going to do is get a new permanent, but a skad of clothes and the very first thing of all I'm going to do is to get a new permanent in "Thin Ice." She wrote that it was in Lacombe recently and that she was simply adorable. Must get new as the truck is ready to leave.

In haste, ANNE. P.S.—Better not say anything about that P.O. job, as I'm not dead certain of it—but I sure have high hopes.—A.

Rocky Mountain Lumber Camp, Feb. 7, 1938.

Dear Naomi—Just a line to let you know that the job I'm working for is asking. All I have to do now is to make formal application for it. Hurrah for me—I'll shake the pine needles out of my boots and leave this saw-mill country behind me forever. Cook cried when I told her that but Harry just grins and says he thinks I'm too dumb to work in an office, but I'll show him. Of course he doesn't know I took a year's High School, and it doesn't matter what he thinks or anyone, 'cause I'm away to a career now, and watch me go. Bye-bye, love ANNE.

Seven per cent Production Tax Becomes Subject of Province-wide Discussion

By T. B. WINDBROSS

EDMONTON.—The scene of political action had shifted, as this week opened, from the provincial capital, at Edmonton to the towns, villages and farming communities throughout the province. In all of them the deeds of the legislature session which closed earlier in the month were being studied and valued, and each constituency was getting ready to ask its member some questions about his actions and the actions of the whole House, when he shows up to present his own report.

The production tax, by which the government was given power to take from every farmer seven per cent of the farm's production in goods or in money, came in for more heated and more widespread condemnation from farming communities and agricultural interests than has greeted probably any other piece of legislation adopted by any assembly in the province for many years past. The protests against the act came from virtually every corner of the Province, and from drought areas as well as from the districts which always have good crops. It came from livestock producers, dairymen, wool growers, sugar beet growers and vegetable growers, as well as from farmers producing only grain.

Big Protest Meeting

One big protest meeting was held at White School, near Lethbridge. There farmers declared that the act would increase their individual taxes, levied by the Provincial Government, as much as 10 times.

Norman F. Priestley, vice-president of the United Farmers of Alberta, recorded the protest of that organization as an extremely conservative estimate; he said doubled taxation would be the result of the act. Ratepayers of the Lethbridge Northern irrigation district went on record as opposing the act strenuously and asked their executive to place the protest before the Government. At Lloydminster, Social Credit supporters were among the first to protest. "A $25 dividend sounds much better to farmers than a seven per cent tax," said one of them. Another farmer said he viewed with alarm "a tax on energy for the support of laziness." Still another described the act as "obnoxious money under false pretences."

Meanwhile, Premier Abernethy was harking in Easter sunshine to the Pacific Coast, taking a holiday. Other Government officials explained an amendment which had been inserted into the act as meaning that the seven per cent tax was in effect a lien on who came to live in Lacombe at the age of 20 in the year 1905?

Do You Know?

Clifford Danner,

Mr. Danner was born in Quilman, Missouri, in 1885, and moved with his family to Graham, in the same State, seven years later, where his father operated a flour mill, and the son received a school education. Clifford helped his father in the mill before the family moved to Lacombe in 1905, where he built and operated the Danner Milling Co. Clifford left the mill in 1908 to work for the newly formed Blindman Electric Power Co., which was founded to supply electrical power for the Town of Lacombe. In 1910 Clifford took charge of the newly installed steam plant in Lacombe when the Blindman Power Co. was dissolved. Here he worked until 1928, at which time the Calgary Power Co. took over the franchise to provide electrical power for the Town of Lacombe. Mr. Danner took charge of the local office of the power company, for the entire district, including Tees, Albi, Mizor, Clive and Hoshaw, a position which he still holds.

In 1913, Mr. Danner was married to Anna L. Haight of Adolphstown, Ontario. They have three children, Austin, Gerald and Doris. Mr. Danner's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Danner, are still living, along with two of the family—Peter, Ted, Guy and Opal—all living in or around Lacombe.

Coast Highway Is Live Subject

An international highway running through British Columbia and spanning the complete distance between Seattle, Wash., and Fairbanks, Alaska, is one of the live subjects on the Pacific Coast.

Alberta motorists also are interested in this proposed route, as an important section of it is to traverse Canadian territory. The scheme involves the use of existing roads in British Columbia in order to facilitate the speedy completion of the highway.

The route would run from Seattle to Vancouver, then to Prince George, B.C., on to Hazelton, Altn and then Lake Laberge and Dawson in Yukon territory, continuing to Fairbanks, Alaska.

Officials of the United States and British Columbia governments are reported to have already given preliminary consideration to this international road project.

With work being continued this year on the Jasper-Lake Louise scenic road and the completion of the Big Bend section of the Trans-Canada highway between Revelstoke and Golden, B.C., in prospect, this province projects, in the opinion of officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

The capital of Oregon is located at Salem, 32 miles from Portland.

Votes Millions For Highways

An intensified campaign to provide Alberta with dustless highways appears to have been given impetus by the action of the provincial government in Quebec.

That government has just been authorized by its legislature to expend $50,000,000 on highway improvements over a four-year plan. This means that Quebec is going to make a strong bid for a greater share of tourist trade and to do that it realizes that it must build dustless highways.

The action taken by Quebec in Quebec is in Alberta as again demonstrating the importance of spending money to make a bid for the tourist trade.

The $50,000,000 to be spent by Quebec for road improvements is entirely apart from the $5,000,000 which the province estimates it will spend out of revenue for road purposes this year.

BLACKFALDS.—School closed for the Easter holidays last Thursday, and is expected to reopen on the 25th. Miss Arrow-smith's room celebrated Easter on Thursday afternoon with a party for the pupils and their parents, many pre-school children also being invited. The children brought their dolls and sang for the grown-ups, who also had an opportunity of seeing the work that the pupils had been doing during the year. During the course of the afternoon, the children played games and ate their Easter treats, while tea was served for the parents and guests for the children by Mrs. Wade, so a most enjoyable afternoon was spent.

The Guilding Star Girls' Club held a very successful evening on April 8, when they staged a "Major Bowes" amateur hour and box social at the U.P.A. Hall. There were many players on the program, and Arthur Wigmore did a good job as Major Bowes. A prize was awarded for the best box, and the judges had a difficult time deciding upon the winner, so good were the boxes. Eventually it was awarded to Miss Ruth Ester Miller, who made up her box to resemble a radio, and a very good imitation it was too. After the boxes were auctioned, a dance was held to the music of Vance Capron and his band—or it may be Jim Toller's band—and it was greatly enjoyed.

Large Congregation.—The service which the Crusaders held at the United Church on Sunday, April 10, drew the biggest congregation that the church has seen for years, and it was greatly enjoyed by those present. Joyce Moir, the president, read the lesson, and the Rev. A. L. Carr delivered a sermon appropriate for the occasion, while the girls' choir acquitted themselves as splendidly as they had done the previous Sunday. We look forward to seeing the girls in the choir for many more Sundays to come.

George H. McLennan's hired man, returned from Quebec the week before last and has been helping Henry to move some of his buildings to the McLennan half-section, which is south-west of the land on which Henry has been living. The latter, which has been farmed by the McLennans for many years past, has been purchased by Kenneth Dane.

We understand that Mr. and Mrs. Codman propose going to Glenora, but that their daughter Edith will continue her Grade XII studies here until the end of the term. Both Mr. and Mrs. Codman have been earnest church workers and they will be greatly missed.

Mrs. Walker's brother, Mr. Barth of Portland, Ore., with his wife and their youngest son, visited the Walkers early last week, before returning to Portland. Mr. and Mrs. Walker were visitors in Calgary for Good Friday.

Mrs. Moss had a visitor for a few days last week her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ingham, of Calgary. Earlier in the week Mrs. Moss spent a few days with her daughter, Mrs. Roy Miller, in order to help her to look after her baby, whom she brought home from hospital on Thursday, April 7.

Miss Martha Rile was home from Easter from Edmonton on Saturday evening, returning Monday night.

Working in Trail.—Johnny Bennett is now working in Trail, B.C., while sister Marie is at home with the folks. Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Heade-mark left on Thursday last to spend a short holiday at Chilliwack and other points in B.C.

CANADA CONSUMES HUGE AMOUNT OF PEANUTS

From 1929 to 1936, Canadians ate 106,000 tons of peanuts. The amount of peanuts imported in 1936 was 15,000 tons; in 1935 practically a similar amount, and 17,000 tons in 1934. Also known as ground nuts and earth nuts, peanuts are used for human food, for feeding livestock, and as an oilseed, yielding oil for culinary and industrial purposes, and oil-cake for stock feeding and fertilizers. The bulk of peanuts in world trade is made into oil. Canada imports a small amount of peanut oil for soap-making and canning fish. India and China are the chief peanut growing countries.

When Cotton Goods Had to be Imported

A FEW HUNDRED YEARS AGO in England, only the rich could afford to wear clothes made of cotton. They were an expensive luxury because there was no spinning and weaving industry in England. Cotton goods had to be imported.

BUT WHEN the English people themselves began to spin and weave, the price of cotton goods came down. After a time, even people of ordinary means could afford to buy cotton shirts and dresses.

IN CANADA we have had the advantage of possessing our own cotton textile industry for nearly one hundred years. There are now 42 mills in 27 towns of the Maritimes, Quebec and Ontario. More than 21,000 men and women find steady, year-round employment in producing cotton yarn and cloth. Last year they spent over $13,000,000.00 in wages—much of it going to buy the products of Western Canadian farms.

The World of Wheat

By MAJOR H. L. STRANGE

"Our fathers used to say that the Master's Eye was the best fertilizer."

Pliny, the elder, that great Roman Naturalist, recorded this maxim in his classic work, "Historia Naturalis," written about the year 60 A.D.; modern farmers too, know that even today something suffers when the Master's Eye for long is absent.

While our knowledge of such primary agricultural principles has not greatly increased in 2000 years, yet modern science has discovered many new practices which are useful to farmers. One of these is that besides the "Master's Eye," a little artificial fertilizer can be used to good advantage on our Canadian Prairies.

What kind, and how much shall I use? What will it cost and how will it benefit me? are the usual pertinent and intelligent questions farmers ask.

The records of countless experiments reveal that either Ammonium Phosphate or Triple Superphosphate can be used to advantage in amounts from 20 to 40 pounds to the acre, depending upon the district and the moisture from 80 cents to $1.10 an acre, and that the benefits undeniably, in general, will be about 15 per cent higher yield, some six days earlier maturity, and often one grade, even sometimes two grades, better at the elevator. A

Gravel, Blotter For Alberta Roads

Value of $1,000,000 for main highways construction this year, approved by the Alberta Legislature, is expected to result in some major road improvements, though details of the program have not been fully disclosed.

One project to be undertaken, it is learned, will be improving of the Trans-Canada highway for a distance of 10 miles or more in the Medicine Hat district. Much of this will be reconstruction, which will be undertaken as early as possible.

Between Calgary and the international border, the "blotting" is expected to be extended, which will be welcomed by tourists.

Seventy miles of "blotting" is also planned for the Jasper highway, west of Edmonton, which, as yet, has not had any first-class hard surfacing.

In the north country, more graveling is projected, largely for the Peace River highway, where 40 miles were given an all-weather surfacing last year.

fine return, it would seem, for the relatively small expenditure required.

Following factors have tended to raise price—

Drought still prevails in Italy and France, wheat importations by Italy likely owing to crop deterioration; rain needed in Greece; severe drought in North Africa; Australian farmers holding back wheat on account of the drought, and now feeding wheat to livestock; parts of Danube basin and Hungary complaining of drought.

Following factors have tended to lower price—

Harvesting progresses in India; unfavorable financial markets in the U.S.A.; German rye supplies in excess of demand; Poland removes grain export restrictions; field work progresses actively in Argentina; Holland increases importing duty on wheat, rye, oats, corn and barley; good reserves of old wheat in Rumania; large fibert production Mediterranean Basin.

Tees Tattle Tales

By TATTLE

TEES.—The town's population received an increase during the past week when a baby daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elbert.

It looks like another election for councillor will be held in this district. Jack Reynolds has resigned his seat and another vote will be taken shortly.

Tommy Scott left Friday last for Victoria, where he expects to spend the summer, with the possibility of staying out there for good. Mr. Cable of Provost, Alta., will work Mr. Scott's farm this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ferguson, Mrs. T. J. Harris and Earl Barnes all returned safely from their visit to Central British Columbia points and are starting in with their cows and chickens again.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Davies spent the Easter holidays in Edmonton; Chas. McDougall, Miss Jean Putnam and Mrs. Scott, in Calgary; Jack Murdoch, Miss K. McMillan at Lacombe and Miss Stephenson at Red Deer.

Miss Georgina Stewart of Calgary visited Mr. and Mrs. T. Newton over the holiday.

Returns From the East

Postmaster Fry returned from a long visit to Eastern Canadian points recently.

Garfield Webb of Consort has moved on to the Sweet's farm near Haynes, where he will endeavor to do better than he did on the "old bald-headed."

Enil Wolter has taken over his duties at Mr. Ardley's ranch, replacing Nick Wilkerson, who in turn returned to his home east of Edmonton after a year at Tees.

Gene Marshall is getting to be a real nurse (that is, for little black calves). He has between 40 and 50 little fellows to look after now, most of them born within the last week.

A crude joke was played the other night by some gang while Mr. and Mrs. Papineau (our latest newbyweds) were entertaining a few midnight callers with tea and cakes. Who ever it was slipped in to the bedroom, via the ladder route, and filled the bed, with barley heads, salt, sugar and flour. Now a little joke is alright, but why mix barley heads with other eatables? especially enough to make a good batch of biscuits.

Easter Party Held

The High School Literary Society held an Easter party on Thursday evening in the local Community Hall. Each member could invite one guest, so the crowd, although not large, was very lively.

Pat and John Armstrong are home for the Easter holidays from boarding school, and Junior Leitch of Edmonton is visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Scal.

Massey-Harris Official Optimistic for 1938

Stopping off in Edmonton recently in his tour of the company's branches, Jas. S. Duncan, Vice-President and General Manager of Massey-Harris Company, Limited, said that "The heavy subsoil moisture, along with the fact that Canada's wheat supply has reached the lowest point in years, with no encumbering and unwieldy surplus, should result in an extremely good year for the farmers of Western Canada."

Normal precipitation during the growing season is, in Mr. Duncan's opinion, all that is needed to ensure an average crop, which should be readily marketable at a price which will bring a good return to the farmer.

Better prices prevail at present for most farm products; in fact, he remarked, "sufficiently better in comparison with the things the farmer has to buy to bring the purchasing power of farm products generally, back to the 1926 levels."

"Many people in Western Canada have the impression that the Canadian farm implement industry is highly protected," said Mr. Duncan, "whereas the actual duty is only 7½ per cent, apart from certain important implements, like tractors, that are admitted free. Economists and tariff experts will agree that scientific duty of 7½ per cent may be looked on as merely a revenue tariff rate."

"A glance at the tariff structure in other countries should serve to dispel misconceptions as to the supposedly favored position of the Canadian implement industry. In Australia a duty of 4 per cent was followed by an absolute embargo in 1930 on a number of important implements—the embargo has been removed but the duty remains. In New Zealand the duty is 35 per cent plus a 5 per cent surtax on implements similar to those being made in the country. In the Argentine," Mr. Duncan concluded, "a similar high tariff is in effect."

Disciple of Ghandi

Miss Slade, English disciple of Ghandi, is shown carrying goat-milk for Mohandas K. Ghandi, at the first session of the Indian National Congress at Haripura, India. The Indian Congress was split over policy of whether they should wage "war" against the British for independence after hearing of the resignations of British ministers.

SUNNY CREST.—Last Sunday the Sunday School put on an Easter program of hymns and recitations. Theodore Fisher gave the scripture reading and Mrs. H. Woods the chalk talk, while H. Woods sang "The Old Rugged Cross." The blackboard was prettily decorated by Marion Geo.

Rev. Coxson delivered the Easter sermon. There was a special missionary collection taken. The Pioneer Class sang "Dare to Be a Daniel" and each contributed their share of money that the Daniel Band raised last year selling Mother's Day flowers.

Sunday next, April 24, Rev. Coxson will deliver the sermon, choosing as his topic, "The True Vine."

Attend Lincoln Service

On Sunday afternoon a carload of people from West Branch and two from Sunny Crest were present at the Lincoln service, taken by Rev. Coxson.

Holidaying in Calgary

Miss Carter is spending her Easter holidays in Calgary. In her absence, the school is being cleaned.

Mrs. T. Black and children from Lacombe were visitors over the week-end with Mrs. E. Dolc. Clyde Cunningham of Clive called on an old friend at McLaughlin Beach.

Carl Kamah and his son George were out at Hoadley on Saturday.

There were one or two in the fields plowing and discing before the snowfall on Tuesday. Bill Gaine was one of the first in the fields, with H. Woods also out on Saturday.

Why Can't Others Emulate Him? A retired vocalist who had acquired a large fortune by marriage was asked to sing in company.

"Allow me," said he, "to imitate the nightingale, which does not sing after it has made its nest."
